Casa de las Orquideas is a small family-owned orchid nursery specializing in cool-growing genera such as cymbidiums and zygotetals. The business was founded by Loren Batchman in 1976 and is located in the coastal San Diego area. The business was passed down to Karl and Miki Batchman in 2011. Miki Batchman has been doing the lab work for the business, as well as display design, for several years. She will be speaking about flasking and what goes on in the orchid reproduction laboratory.

Dear Orchid Friends

How time flies! Feels like yesterday when it was announced that South Africa will host the next World Orchid Conference and now there's slightly more than 9 months left before we welcome you to Johannesburg and WOC21.

We are very proud to be able to host this wonderful event for a second time (previously in Durban in 1981) and are planning a wonderful festival, where orchids will take the front stage, but complimented by other iconic plants of South African origin.

Our hotel partners are locked and loaded and looking forward to be your hosts – we have negotiated really good deals from the sumptuous Maslow to the very modest Sun1, catering for all requirements.

All our systems are ready for registering for the conference, to book tickets for the social events, to book your hotel and much more information about some of our indigenous orchids, and general information about Johannesburg and South Africa. Should there still be any information you need, please contact us through communications@woc21.org.

The next few weeks – until mid January 2014 - will be the main summer holiday period in South Africa, where everybody flecks to the beaches and mountains and the cities run empty. Our office remain open, but with limited staff. All enquiries will be answered as soon as possible and definitely within 36 hours.

We wish you all a quiet and peaceful Christmas period, with good health and prosperity for 2014.

Thank you to everybody who have already registered.

We look forward to welcome you all to WOC21, Johannesburg and the rest of South Africa in September 2014!

Warm regards,

from
team

Celebrating our 61st year.

Rio Mojave Orchids is going out of business. Larry Johnston will bring supplies to the next meeting and if you give him a call, he will make sure he brings what you need. You can call him at: 760.948.1532

How many of you would be interested in a re-potting class? We could have it at our regularly scheduled meeting and you can bring An orchid that needs to be repotted and members can help each other with this task as well as learn the correct technique to mount orchids. This will be fun, hands on meeting with lots of information. Give one of the board members a call or you can e-mail Sandy @ ssmith4556@aol.com. Thanks
