Don't you just love phalaenopsis? They are delicate and come in a variety of colors with spots, stripes, and art shades. Some are very delicate and others have thicker petals for a more long lasting flower. This is a good time to see this as the "chilling" period is almost upon us. Learn what you need to know in order to have your phals bloom their prettiest this coming spring.

The society is pleased to present a DVD from the Orchid Digest entitled "Phalaenopsis: the Genus and Culture" which will be presented at our October meeting. This will be a narrative assisted program with Don Phillips as the narrator. Hope you will be able to make it.

Celebrating our
63th year!

We want to extend a huge thank you to all the following for doing such a great job at our orchid society show held at Sunshine Growers Nursery. All three days were in the triple digits heat wise and you are all to be commended for all the hard work in unbearable conditions.

Jamie and Doreen Stewart for the plant sales table (all three days!), Don Phillips for setting up and tearing down and all things in between including a repotting program, Pat Engel for bringing us goodies to eat and drink, Tom Gibbs for hauling society stuff back and forth and for being there for the show, Karl Trisler for bringing some wonderful plants and for helping out as well, Michael Madrigal for helping set up, Betty Chambers for bringing her beautiful plants for judging and helping to make the display noteworthy, Paul Bechtel for being a judge, Steve Hagerth won the top design award "Design of Excellence" and helped with set up and take down. Michiko Kidwell for tearing down, Joe Kles and Denise Kles for bringing plants and selling raffle tickets on Sunday, Dann Dunst for giving his program on "Anyone Can Grow Orchids", Gene and Sandy Collins for beautiful orchids, setting up and taking down, Sandy's class on orchid gifting and getting plants ready for judging, Grace Martin for being there to help set up and scurrying around doing the odd bit to help get things ready and for showing up a second day to help out, Micaela Solis created the certificate of appreciation presented to Sunshine Growers Nursery, Marilyn Halfermalz also helping to set up and be around for whatever needed to be done, Nessa Rosenbaum who came on Sunday with Laura Gerdwagon to sell raffle tickets and be on hand to help out and tear down the show, Joyce and Chris Dean who hauled tables to and fro for all of us and Joyce also presented a class on designing with orchids and for coordinating the show schedule for both societies and all the extra stuff she does behind the scenes no one knows about, and especially to Ron and Linda Lang through diligence and perseverance got this whole shebang set up and working.

The members really stepped up to make the show a success. If I've not listed your name and you helped out, I apologize – your help was truly appreciated.
